CHAIR'S REPORT

A. 2021 meeting schedule

The next Board meeting is scheduled for 10:00 a.m. on Wednesday, October 6, 2021.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR REPORT

Mr. Sigurdson presented members with a memorandum regarding this matter that is attached to and made a part of these minutes. Mr. Sigurdson told members that all state agencies are required to annually certify that they have reviewed their internal control systems and procedures, and are either in compliance with the standards and policies established by Minnesota Management and Budget (MMB), or are taking the actions described to gain compliance with those standards. Mr. Sigurdson said that the self-assessment tool and certification cover 65 state policies ranging from code of conduct training for staff to the procedures used to prevent fraud and safeguard public funds. Mr. Sigurdson stated that this was the first year that the Board could certify that it had policies or controls in place that complied with all applicable standards.

Mr. Sigurdson next told members that staff had scheduled Webex compliance training sessions in September and October and that many people had already registered for those classes. Mr. Sigurdson also said that the Centennial Office Building remained closed to the public. Mr. Sigurdson stated that staff was rotating so that only two or three people were physically present in the office each day.

A. Review of legislative recommendations regarding lobbying

Mr. Sigurdson next reviewed the chronology of events for the lobbyist legislative recommendations that had been prepared at the request of Chair Swanson. Mr. Sigurdson noted that work on the legislation began in October of 2019 and continued until the House bill was laid on the table in March of 2021. Mr. Sigurdson said that he soon would reach out to the Minnesota Governmental Relations Council (MGRC) to begin discussions about the legislation in preparation for the 2022 session.

B. Request for Board guidance – contributions to charities

Mr. Sigurdson presented members with a memorandum regarding this matter that is attached to and made a part of these minutes. Mr. Sigurdson told members that Anton Lazzaro was a prolific political contributor who recently had been charged with several crimes. Mr. Sigurdson said that many candidate committees and party units that had received contributions from Mr. Lazzaro had announced that instead of returning those contributions to Mr. Lazzaro, they would be donating an equivalent amount to charity. Mr. Sigurdson said that the entities were not required to return these funds or to donate them. Mr. Sigurdson also stated that campaign finance laws allow committees and party units to donate to 501(c)(3) charities but that there is a $100 per charity, per calendar year limit on these donations. Mr. Sigurdson said that although staff had alerted all committees and party units that had received contributions from Mr. Lazzaro in the past about the $100 limit, staff expected to see violations of the charitable contribution limit on 2021 year-end reports. Mr. Sigurdson stated that the usual remedy for these violations was for the committee or party unit get the money back from the charity. If the donor was a candidate committee, the candidate also could use personal funds to reimburse the committee for the amount of the donation that was over $100. Mr. Sigurdson said that he wanted members to be aware of this potential issue and asked for guidance on how to respond. Members discussed the matter and recommended additional outreach in the coming months to make candidates and party units aware of the limit in time to cure any violations. Members may revisit the issue after the 2021 year-end reports have been filed and the scope of the problem is known.

C. 2020 Lobbyist Disbursement Summary

Mr. Sigurdson presented members with a copy of the 2020 Lobbyist Disbursement Summary that is attached to and made a part of these minutes. Mr. Sigurdson told members that the summary was one of four reports required by statute and that the other three reports would be presented to members at upcoming meetings. Mr. Sigurdson said that the summary was provided for informational purposes only and that no Board action was necessary.

ENFORCEMENT REPORT

A. Discussion items

1. Marcus Harcus (House candidate) and lobbyist (2632) and MN Campaign for Full Legalization (7379) – Late fees and civil penalties for multiple reports and candidate EIS

Mr. Olson told members that Mr. Harcus owed a late filing fee of $100 and a civil penalty of $1,000 for his candidate statement of economic interest, which was due June 16, 2020 and filed May 20, 2021. Mr. Olson said that Mr. Harcus was the sole lobbyist, and the executive director, of MN Campaign for Full Legalization. Mr. Olson said that Mr. Harcus owed a total of $6,200 in late filing fees and civil penalties for the lobbyist disbursement reports listed below:

- Report due January 18, 2021 and filed May 20, 2021 – $1,000 LFF
- Report due June 15, 2020 and filed May 20, 2021 – $1,000 LFF and $1,000 CP
- Report due January 15, 2020 and filed May 20, 2021 – $1,000 LFF and $1,000 CP
- Report due January 15, 2019 and filed March 16, 2019 – $1,000 LFF
- Report due June 15, 2018 and filed June 27, 2018 – $200 LFF

Mr. Olson said that MN Campaign for Full Legalization owed a total of $4,275 in late filing fees and civil penalties for the lobbyist principal reports listed below:

- Report due March 15, 2021 and filed May 20, 2021 – $1,000 LFF and $1,000 CP
- Report due March 16, 2020 and filed May 20, 2021 – $1,000 LFF and $1,000 CP
- Report due March 15, 2019 and filed April 1, 2019 – $275 LFF

Mr. Olson stated that in June 2019 the Board had reduced the total amount owed at that time for late filing fees for lobbyist disbursement reports from $1,200 to $200, and the LFF for the lobbyist principal report due in March 2019 from $275 to $200, contingent upon payment of the remaining balance. No payment was received despite two letters sent to Mr. Harcus seeking payment. Mr. Olson said that the amounts owed therefore reverted back to the original amounts. The Board referred the matter to the Attorney General's Office in September 2020.

Mr. Olson told members that Mr. Harcus had terminated his lobbyist registration effective May 20, 2021, and had timely filed both the lobbyist disbursement report due June 15, 2021, and the lobbyist principal report covering 2021 that will be due on March 15, 2022. Mr. Olson also said that Mr. Harcus no longer had an active principal campaign committee registered with the Board and had no outstanding or upcoming reports. Mr. Olson stated that Mr. Harcus was asking that the total amount owed of $11,575 be reduced to $1,000, which was the balance remaining in the bank account of MN Campaign for Full Legalization. Mr. Olson said that Mr. Harcus had explained that his failure to timely file multiple reports was caused by personal problems and health issues that had hampered his ability to deal with the outstanding issues over the past several years. Mr. Olson told members that there was no staff recommendation in this matter because there were no comparable past cases for comparison.

Marcus H Marcus then addressed the Board. Mr. H Marcus described the personal and medical issues that had prevented him from timely filing his reports. Mr. H Marcus said that he planned to dissolve MN Campaign for Full Legalization and that his only lobbying in the future would be as a citizen lobbyist. Mr. H Marcus also clarified that there actually was only about $15 in the account of MN Campaign for Full Legalization. Mr. H Marcus thanked staff for helping him and the Board for considering his request.

After discussion, the following motion was made:

| Member Soule's motion: | To reduce the late filing fees for the lobbyist disbursement reports to $2,500; to waive all other late filing fees and civil penalties owed; to require $1,000 of the $2,500 owed to be paid according to a payment plan developed by the executive director; to stay payment of the remaining $1,500 for two years and then waive this amount if Mr. H Marcus has had no other late reports; and to put the litigation on hold during this time. |
| Vote on motion:        | A roll call vote was taken. All members voted in the affirmative.  |

2. Jenny Rhoades for Governor (18141) and Jenny Rhoades (Senate candidate) – Late fees for two reports of receipts and expenditures and late fee and civil penalty for candidate EIS

Mr. Olson told members that Ms. Rhoades owed late filing fees of $25 for the 2017 year-end report of receipts and expenditures and $525 for the 2018 year-end/termination report of Jenny Rhoades for Governor (18141). Mr. Olson stated that the Rhoades committee had registered in April 2017 and had disclosed less than $500 in total receipts and less than $500 in total disbursements during the course of its existence. Mr. Olson said that Ms. Rhoades had explained that she attempted to file a termination report covering 2018 via the CFR software prior to the 2018 year-end report coming due on January 31, 2019. Mr. Olson stated that a 2018 1st quarter report was timely filed via the software in April 2018, but that Board staff had no record of any subsequent attempts to upload a report prior to the due date of the 2018 year-end report. Mr. Olson said that a report covering 2018, labeled as a termination report, was filed on March 4, 2019, via the CFR software and that the late filing fee of $525 was based on that date. Mr. Olson stated that the termination report was later amended to list a cash balance of less than $100, allowing the committee to be terminated. Mr. Olson said that Board staff recommended that the late filing fees totaling $550 for the 2017 year-end and 2018 year-end/termination reports be waived because the committee did not receive contributions or make expenditures in excess of $750, and therefore was not required to register with the Board.

Mr. Olson also said that Ms. Rhoades was a candidate for state senator in 2020 and owed a late filing fee of $100 and a civil penalty of $1,000 for her candidate statement of economic interest, which was due June 15, 2020, and filed July 8, 2021. Mr. Olson said that Ms. Rhoades had stated that she was not aware of her failure to file her candidate EIS until she was served with a summons and complaint on June 29, 2021. Mr. Olson said that on July 7, July 30, and August 21, 2020, letters were sent to the address listed on the affidavit of candidacy that Ms. Rhoades had filed, explaining that her EIS had not been received. A copy of the letter dated August 21, 2020, also was sent to the email address that Ms. Rhoades listed on her affidavit of candidacy and her principal campaign committee's statement of organization, which was the same email address that Ms. Rhoades had used on several occasions to communicate with Board staff.

Mr. Olson told members that Ms. Rhoades also had said that she uploaded the wrong attachment in July 2020. Mr. Olson said that it was unclear which attachment she was referring to, but that Ms. Rhoades had emailed a copy of a paper 2020 pre-primary report for the Jenny Rhoades for SD49 committee (18681) to Board staff on July 27, 2020. Mr. Olson said that the body of that email did not contain any text and the subject line was "Report 18681," appearing to indicate that the intent of the email was to file a pre-primary report, rather than an EIS. Regardless, Board staff mailed two letters and emailed Ms. Rhoades after that date, informing her that an EIS had not been received.

Mr. Olson said that Ms. Rhoades had no prior waiver requests pertaining to her terminated principal campaign committees or to an EIS. Mr. Olson stated that Ms. Rhoades had explained the various personal problems that she encountered in 2020 within her waiver request. Mr. Olson said that Board staff recommended that the civil penalty be reduced from $1,000 to $500, which combined with the $100 late filing fee would leave a balance owed of $600 for the candidate EIS.

Jenny Rhoades then addressed the Board. Ms. Rhoades described the software issues that she encountered in 2018 when she was trying to file her campaign finance reports. Ms. Rhoades also described the medical and personal issues that prevented her from timely filing her candidate statement of economic interest.

After discussion, the following motion was made:

| Member Rosen's motion: | To adopt the staff recommendation by waiving the late filing fees totaling $550 incurred by the Jenny Rhoades for Governor committee and reducing the civil penalty for the candidate EIS from $1,000 to $500. |

| Vote on motion. | A roll call vote was taken. All members voted in the affirmative. |

B. Waiver requests

1. MMGMA PAC (80017) – September 2020, 2020 pre-general, 2020 year-end - $3,000 LFFs

Data was entered in the CFR software and the fund attempted to upload each report on its due date. The Board's computer logs show that each upload was attempted and failed and that upload of the year-end report was attempted twice. The uploads may have failed for a variety of reasons including loss of internet connection during the upload process or a firewall issue. Political funds are not required to file a report if they have had no financial activity since the period covered by a previous report, so Board staff did not contact the fund immediately after the reports were due. The issue was discovered as part of the reconciliation process and the missing reports were filed 6/30/2021 after the fund realized they had not been received. The fund reported a cash balance of $464 as of the end of 2020.

 RECOMMENDED ACTION: Waive

Courtney Jasper, a lobbyist for the MMGMA, addressed the Board to thank staff for the assistance provided with filing the reports and the waiver request.

After discussion, the following motion was made:

Member Leppik’s motion: To waive the late filing fees.

Vote on motion: A roll call vote was taken. All members voted in the affirmative.

| Name of Candidate or Committee | Late Fee/ Civil Penalty Amount | Reason for Fine   | Factors for Waiver and Recommended Action  | Board Member’s Motion | Motion                               | Vote on Motion  |
| 2. Robert (Rob) Vanasek (1369) | $175 LFFs ($25 x 7)          | 1st 2021 Lobbyist | Lobbyist was preoccupied with client project and special legislative session and filed seven reports due 6/15/2021 one day late. Lobbyist has not incurred a late filing fee since 2015. RECOMMENDED ACTION: Reduce to $100 | Member Flynn          | To approve the staff recommendation. | A roll call vote was taken. All members voted in the affirmative. |

3. YWCA of Minneapolis (5052) – 2020 lobbyist principal - $250 LFF

Responsibility for filing the report due 3/15/2021 was transferred to a new employee and the principal believed that a report did not need to be filed if there were no lobbying expenditures. The report was filed 3/29/2021. In May 2020, a $1,000 CP was waived and a $1,000 LFF for the 2018 report was reduced to $500 because the designated lobbyist experienced personal issues that delayed the filing of the report. RECOMMENDED ACTION: Reduce to $125

Luna Allen-Bakerian, Race, Equity, and Public Policy Strategist for the YWCA of Minneapolis, addressed the Board. Ms. Allen-Bakerian told members that the report was not timely filed due to staff turnover and the fact that working from home prevented staff from seeing the mailed notice until after the due date. Ms. Allen-Bakerian thanked staff for the help filing the report.

After discussion, the following motion was made:

Member Leppik’s motion: To reduce the late filing fee to $125.

Vote on motion: A roll call vote was taken. All members voted in the affirmative.

REVIEW OF RECENT JUDICIAL OPINIONS

A. Americans for Prosperity Foundation v. Bonta

Mr. Olson presented members with a memorandum regarding this matter that is attached to and made a part of these minutes. Mr. Olson told members that this case arose out of a California law requiring charitable organizations that solicit contributions in that state to register with the state attorney general and to file annually a copy of the Form 990 that they filed with the IRS, including Schedule B. Schedule B generally consists of a list with the name and address of, and amount contributed by, each person who contributed at least $5,000 to the organization. Mr. Olson said that several 501(c)(3) organizations challenged the Schedule B disclosure requirement. In July 2021, the United State Supreme Court issued a 6-3 decision striking down California's Schedule B requirement on its face, with the majority concluding that the requirement burdened donors' First Amendment rights and was not narrowly tailored to an important government interest.

Mr. Olson stated that the justices had split with respect to what level of scrutiny generally applies to disclosure requirements and briefly reviewed the positions taken by the justices. Mr. Olson said that the six justices in the majority each joined the portion of the Court's opinion holding that "[w]hile exacting scrutiny does not require that disclosure regimes be the least restrictive means of achieving their ends, it does require that they be narrowly tailored to the government's asserted interest." The majority went on to state that a substantial relationship between the governmental interest and the means employed "is necessary but not sufficient to ensure that the government adequately considers the potential for First Amendment harms before requiring that organizations reveal sensitive information about their members and supporters. Where exacting scrutiny applies, the challenged requirement must be narrowly tailored to the interest it promotes, even if it is not the least restrictive means of achieving that end." Mr. Olson said that the majority also held that a facial challenge to a disclosure requirement need not include evidence “that donors to a substantial number of organizations will be subjected to harassment and reprisals,” if the disclosure requirement is not narrowly tailored.

Mr. Olson stated that applying exacting scrutiny, the majority noted that while “California has an important interest in preventing wrongdoing by charitable organizations,” “[t]here is a dramatic mismatch” between that interest and the Schedule B disclosure requirement, because California did not cite “a single, concrete instance in which pre-investigation collection of a Schedule B did anything to advance the Attorney General's investigative, regulatory or enforcement efforts.” Mr. Olson said that the majority went on to note that disclosure requirements can chill freedom of association even when there is no disclosure to the general public, and ultimately concluded that California’s Schedule B disclosure requirement was not narrowly tailored and was invalid on its face.

Mr. Olson then reviewed the potential impact of the case on Chapter 10A. Mr. Olson noted that Chapter 10A differs from California’s Schedule B disclosure requirement in at least two ways. First, the purpose of disclosure under Chapter 10A is to ensure that the disclosed information is available to the general public, which, in the campaign finance context, the United States Supreme Court has long held is “the least restrictive means of curbing the evils of campaign ignorance and corruption . . .” Mr. Olson said that the second difference is that the information disclosed pursuant to Chapter 10A is routinely used by the Board to enforce Chapter 10A and by journalists and the general public for many purposes, including bringing possible violations of Chapter 10A to the attention of the Board. Mr. Olson stated that these distinctions decreased the likelihood that the Court’s decision would have a direct impact on Chapter 10A. Mr. Olson told members, however, that the Court’s clear articulation of a tailoring requirement applicable to disclosure requirements subject to exacting scrutiny might make it easier to challenge the constitutionality of disclosure requirements if those requirements were likely to chill speech or association.

B. Thompson v. Hebdon

Mr. Olson presented members with a memorandum regarding this matter that is attached to and made a part of these minutes. Mr. Olson told members that this case arose out of an Alaska law that prohibited individuals from giving contributions in excess of $500 per calendar year to any particular state candidate or to any political group aside from political parties and independent expenditure and ballot question groups. Mr. Olson said that the law was challenged by individuals who wanted to give contributions over the limit and who argued, in part, that the limit was so low that it violated the First Amendment. Mr. Olson stated that a federal district court upheld the $500 limit as did the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. However, in November 2019, the United States Supreme Court ordered the Ninth Circuit to reconsider its decision in light of Randall v. Sorrell. Mr. Olson said that in Randall, six Supreme Court justices agreed that Vermont’s contribution limits violated the First Amendment and five of them joined opinions that explicitly stated that part of the reason the contribution limits were constitutionally infirm was because the dollar amounts were simply too low.

Mr. Olson told members that on remand a divided three-judge Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals panel struck down Alaska’s $500 individual contribution limit. Mr. Olson said that the majority concluded that the annual limit restricted the amount of funds available to challengers because they typically do not enter political races until the year of the general election and therefore could not raise money in the off-year. Mr. Olson stated that the majority also concluded that the already-low limit was not indexed for inflation and was the same as it had been in 1996, and that Alaska had not established a special justification for such a low limit. Mr. Olson said that the Ninth Circuit now was deciding whether to reconsider the case en banc.

Mr. Olson said that although there was no immediate impact on the validity of Chapter 10A's contribution limits, some aspects of the majority's opinion were notable in light of similarities and dissimilarities between Alaska's individual contribution limit and Chapter 10A. Mr. Olson stated that the court noted that Alaska's individual contribution limit was not indexed to inflation, which was one of the factors set forth in Randall. Mr. Olson noted that while Chapter 10A's aggregate special source contribution limits are indexed to inflation, the individual contribution limits and party unit and dissolving principal campaign committee aggregate contribution limits are static. Mr. Olson said, however, that those limits had been increased considerably in 2013.

Mr. Olson next told members that Chapter 10A's individual contribution limit applies to two-year election cycle segments rather than single calendar years. Mr. Olson said that the issue of challengers potentially having only an election year to accept contributions therefore did not result in an effectively lower individual contribution limit. Mr. Olson finally noted that Alaska's $500 individual contribution limit applied to all state candidates, including candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, whereas Chapter 10A establishes varying contribution limits depending on the office sought that are significantly higher than the Alaska limit.

LEGAL COUNSEL'S REPORT

Mr. Hartshorn presented members with a legal report that is attached to and made a part of these minutes. Mr. Hartshorn told members that the Gunderson matter had been resolved and that the Harcus and Rhoades matters would be placed on hold to allow them to pay their fees in accordance with the waivers just granted. Mr. Hartshorn said that the Partlow matter also was on hold due to a request for reconsideration. Mr. Hartshorn stated that work was moving forward on the summary and default judgment motions in the other cases.

OTHER BUSINESS

There was no other business to report.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

The chair recessed the regular session of the meeting and called to order the executive session. Upon recess of the executive session, the chair had nothing to report into regular session.

There being no other business, the meeting was adjourned by the chair.

Respectfully submitted,

Date: August 25, 2021

To: Board Members

From: Jeff Sigurdson, Executive Director

Telephone: 651-539-1189

Re: Executive Director's Report

Board operations

All state agencies are required to annually certify that they have reviewed their internal control systems and procedures, and are either in compliance with the standards and policies established by the Commissioner of Minnesota Management and Budget (MMB), or are taking the actions described to gain compliance with those standards. The self-assessment tool and the certification cover 65 state policies and requirements. The policies range from code of conduct training for staff to a detailed review of the procedures used to prevent fraud and safeguard public funds. The agency rates itself on its performance in meeting the state standards, and then MMB reviews the assessment and makes recommendations. This procedure has been in place since 2012. This is the first year that the Board could certify that it has policies or controls in place that comply with all applicable standards. The self-assessment was conducted by Ms. Pope, and was certified by the Board Chair and myself on August 18th.

Centennial Office Building

The planned opening of the Centennial Office Building to the public has been rescheduled. The tentative opening date is now October 1st. The Board's office is staffed each day, although typically with only two or three staff members at a time.

Review of legislative recommendations regarding lobbying

Chair Swanson requested a chronology of the Board's legislative recommendations regarding lobbying including interactions with the Minnesota Governmental Relations Council (MGRC), and a review of legislative action on the recommendations. A chronology of significant actions related to the lobbyist recommendations is below.

|----------------|--|--|
| October 2019   |  | Staff presents initial version of lobbying program recommendations to Board.   |
| November 2019  |  | MGRC provides comment to the Board and provides that the MGRC is neutral or supportive of proposed changes to lobbyist registration and principal reporting, but does not support changes to information reported by lobbyists. MGRC states that it will survey its members on proposal and provide results to Board.  |
| December 2019  |  | Staff meets with members of MGRC to develop changes for proposal that address MGRC concerns.   |
| January 2020   |  | Staff brings modified lobbying program recommendations that replace requirement for reporting a specific issue that required 10% or more of a lobbyist's time with requirement to report no more than four most important subjects lobbied on during the session. Board approves recommendation as a legislative proposal.   |
| February 2020  |  | MGRC provides Board with results of member survey and states that the MGRC is forming a task force to work on the proposal and provide further feedback to staff. Board votes to withdraw the lobbyist proposal from the legislative recommendations to allow staff to work with the MGRC on the proposal. The stated goal is to have a finished proposal for the legislature by the fall of 2020. |
| September 2020 |  | Staff meets with MGRC task force, incorporates some MGRC recommendations on how to determine which actions on behalf of a principal must be reported, and modifies the requirement that a bill number be identified for all legislative lobbying that represents over 25% of total effort.   |
| November 2020  |  | Modified lobbyist proposal provided to Board. Board directs staff to make changes to recommendations and bring back for final consideration.   |
| December 2020  |  | Staff releases functional mockup of web-based reporting for lobbyists if legislative proposal is adopted. Mockup of application is provided to MGRC and the public for evaluation of reporting requirements.   |
| January 2020   |  | Board approves lobbyist program legislative recommendations  |

| 2020 Legislative Session |  | The executive director meets with legislators on the lobbying proposal. However, the pandemic ends any opportunity to introduce the legislation during session.   |
| February 2021            |  | Staff meets with MGRC leadership to review remaining concerns. Amendment is drafted to address process for acquiring additional information on lobbying subjects.   |
|                          |  |   |
| March 2021               |  | Lobbying proposal is introduced as HF 2173 by Representative Nelson   |

| March 12, 2021           |  | Bill is heard in the House State Government and Finance Committee and is laid on the table by Chair Nelson after testimony by the MGRC, which means no further action will be taken on the bill. The proposal was not introduced in the Senate. |

As overview, the current version of the lobbying program recommendations as found in House File 2173 is significantly different, and in my view better, than the version that was first presented to the Board in 2019. The MGRC deserves credit for working with staff to improve the recommendations. In the end however, the MGRC did not support the legislation when it was heard in the House State Government and Finance Committee on March 12, 2021. The committee hearing is available for viewing at the legislative website - Minnesota House of Representatives \(state.mn.us\) The presentation and testimony on the bill starts at the 54:19 mark, and lasts about 24 minutes. Chair Nelson states that he believes that further work is needed on the bill. I will reach out to the MGRC so as to understand their concerns at this point.

Re: Request for Guidance – use of contributions received from Anton Lazzaro

As widely discussed in the media, Anton Lazzaro made large personal contributions to a number of Republican candidates, Republican party units, and conservative political committees. Mr. Lazzaro now faces serious federal charges that raise questions about the source of the money used for his political contributions. As a result, although no law requires them to do so, many candidates and party units have publicly stated that they will not keep the contributions from Mr. Lazzaro. A list of the $93,295 in itemized contributions made during the years 2017 to 2020 from Mr. Lazzaro to committees registered with the Board is shown in Table 1. Any contributions made by Mr. Lazzaro in 2021 will not be reported to the Board prior to the year-end report due on January 31, 2022.

A contribution may always be returned to the donor, within 90 days to clear a contribution limit violation, or at any time that the committee no longer wishes to retain the contribution. However, because of the charges against Mr. Lazzaro, committees apparently are not willing to return the money to him. Instead, candidates and party units have stated that they will send an amount equal to the contributions from Mr. Lazzaro to charitable organizations, typically organizations that provide shelter and other resources to women in crisis.

The potential problem with these donations is that a candidate committee, political party unit, or political committee may use contributions received only for the purposes found in Minnesota Statutes section 211B.12. This statute provides that contributions received may be spent on items related to the conduct of election campaigns, non-campaign disbursements as provided in Chapter 10A, and the following charitable contributions:

(6) charitable contributions of not more than $100 to any charity organized under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code annually, except that the amount contributed is not limited by this clause if the political committee, political fund, party unit, principal campaign committee, or campaign fund of a candidate for political subdivision office that made the contribution dissolves within one year after the contribution is made;

To ensure that candidates and treasurers were aware of this limitation staff sent an email on August 13th to candidates and treasurers of committees that received contributions from Mr. Lazzaro that explained the limitations on charitable contributions (excluding committees that have terminated, which are highlighted in yellow in Table 1). However, it seems clear that some charitable contributions over $100 have already been made, as seen in social media posts and news media reports. Additionally, in some cases it would be difficult for the committee to donate the money in $100 increments. For example, the Republican Party of Minnesota received over $31,000 from Mr. Lazzaro; that would require 310 separate contributions to 501(c)(3) organizations to devest that amount.

I anticipate that some year-end campaign finance reports will report contributions of over $100 to charities for the purpose of dispensing Mr. Lazzaro's contributions. The standard procedure for committees that report a charitable contribution of over $100 is for staff to require the committee to get back from the charity any amount over $100, or to have the candidate personally pay the committee for the portion of the contribution over $100. The Board could of course continue this practice. However, I am unsure of the policy goal achieved by making it difficult for any committee to remove tainted political contributions by giving to a charity for presumably a good purpose.

The Board cannot rewrite the requirements of Minnesota Statutes section 211B.12, but it can prioritize the use of staff resources. The Board may wish to direct the executive director to begin a staff review of excess charitable contributions used to dispense problematic contributions only if that would be the best allocation of staff time given other enforcement issues. This may also be an issue to revisit after the filing of the year-end reports. At that time I will be able to report on the actual number of committees with a potential charitable contribution violation.

California's Requirement that 501(c)(3) Organizations Provide List of Large Donors

Most 501(c) organizations are required to file Form 990 and its accompanying schedules<sup>1</sup> annually with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Those that receive contributions totaling at least $5,000 from a single contributor typically must file Schedule B.<sup>2</sup> That schedule generally consists of a list with the name and address of, and amount contributed by, each person that contributed at least $5,000. However, an organization that satisfies the IRS's 1/3 public support test<sup>3</sup> is only required to include each contributor who gave more than $5,000 and whose contributions comprised more than 2% of the organization's total contributions.

California required charitable organizations that solicit contributions in California to register with the state attorney general<sup>4</sup> and generally required them to annually file with the state a copy of the Form 990 they filed with the IRS, including Schedule B.<sup>5</sup> The Schedule Bs filed by each charitable organization were generally shielded from public disclosure pursuant to an internal policy of California's Office of the Attorney General and that policy was codified as a regulation in 2016.<sup>6</sup> Some 501(c)(3) organizations declined to provide their Schedule Bs, withheld certain pages, or redacted them to exclude donor names and addresses and that practice continued without enforcement action being taken for a decade.<sup>7</sup> Starting in 2010 California's Office of the Attorney General began demanding that 501(c)(3) organizations provide unredacted copies of their schedule Bs.<sup>8</sup>

Federal District Court and Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals Decisions

In March 2014 a 501(c)(3) organization, the Center for Competitive Politics (CCP), filed a lawsuit in federal court challenging on its face the requirement to provide an unredacted Schedule B, asserting that the requirement is preempted by federal law and violates the First Amendment's guarantee of freedom of association. In May 2014 a federal district court denied the CCP's motion for a preliminary injunction and a year later a Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals panel affirmed the district court.<sup>9</sup> The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals rejected the CCP's preemption argument and applied exacting (intermediate) scrutiny to the challenged regulation, concluding that the requirement is substantially related to a sufficiently important governmental interest. The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals noted that the CCP failed to show any actual burden on its freedom of association and rejected the CCP's facial challenge, but left the door open to a future as-applied challenge if the CCP could demonstrate "a reasonable probability that the compelled disclosure of its contributors' names will subject them to threats, harassment, or reprisals from either Government officials or private parties."<sup>10</sup>

In December 2014 and April 2015, two 501(c)(3) organizations, the Americans for Prosperity Foundation (AFPF) and the Thomas More Law Center (TMLC), filed separate lawsuits in federal court challenging the requirement both on its face and as applied to each plaintiff as violative of the guarantees of freedom of speech and association under the First Amendment. The district court granted preliminary injunctions barring California from demanding that the plaintiffs produce copies of their Schedule Bs during the pendency of their lawsuits. However, a Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals panel vacated those injunctions in December 2015.<sup>11</sup>

After the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals published its decision in the appeal brought by the CCP, the district court focused solely on the as-applied challenges brought by the AFPF and the TMLC and applied exacting (intermediate) scrutiny.<sup>12</sup> In April 2016, following a bench trial, the district court held that the requirement violated the AFPF's First Amendment rights and imposed a permanent injunction.<sup>13</sup> The court reached the same conclusion and ordered the same relief with respect to the TMLC in November 2016.<sup>14</sup> In doing so, the district court noted that

California's Office of the Attorney General had a significant history of security lapses and Schedule Bs not being properly classified as confidential, increasing the likelihood "that compelled disclosure of Schedule B would chill Plaintiff's First Amendment rights."<sup>15</sup>

The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals consolidated the two cases for purposes of appeal and reversed the district court in September 2018.<sup>16</sup> The court held that requiring the filing of unredacted Schedule Bs furthered the state's interests of preventing fraud and self-dealing by charitable organizations. This holding mirrors that of the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in 2018, which upheld a similar requirement imposed by New York.<sup>17</sup> The court held that the plaintiffs failed to show that the requirement will have more than a modest impact on contributions. The court stated that "[a]lthough there may be a small group of contributors who are comfortable with disclosure to the IRS, but who would not be comfortable with disclosure to the Attorney General, the evidence does not show that this group exists or, if it does, its magnitude."<sup>18</sup> This holding likewise mirrored that of the Second Circuit Court of Appeals. With respect to the possibility of donors facing reprisals, the court noted that changes had been implemented to prevent future inadvertent disclosures of Schedule Bs and that the risk of future inadvertent disclosures was small. Given that slight risk, the court held that the plaintiffs failed to demonstrate "a reasonable probability that the compelled disclosure of personal information will subject them to threats, harassment, or reprisals."<sup>19</sup> The court therefore held that the AFPF and the TMLC failed to show that the requirement imposed a significant burden on their First Amendment rights.

In March 2019 the Ninth Circuit Court Appeals declined to rehear the cases en banc and five judges dissented from that decision.<sup>20</sup> The dissenting judges forcefully argued that the panel that reversed the district court ignored substantial evidence showing that the state failed to safeguard Schedule Bs from public disclosure and that individuals affiliated with the plaintiffs have been subjected to harassment and threats. The dissenting judges stated that when a plaintiff satisfies its burden showing the likelihood of threats of violence and reprisals, the appropriate level of scrutiny to be applied is heightened to require narrow tailoring of the means

<sup>15</sup> Id. at *5. The court also stated that "given the history of the Registry completely violating the 'longstanding confidentiality policy,' the Attorney General's assurances that a regulatory codification of the same exact policy will prevent future inadvertent disclosures rings hollow. The Attorney General's steps to attempt to rectify the disclosures and prevent future disclosures is commendable. Yet, trial testimony supported what should be an obvious fact, the Registry cannot assure that documents will not be inadvertently disclosed no matter what steps it takes."

<sup>17</sup> Citizens United v. Schneiderman, 882 F.3d 374 (2d Cir. 2018). New York similarly did not enforce its requirement for years, but began seeking to compel the filing of unredacted Schedule Bs in 2013, which would remain confidential pursuant to a regulation. The New York regulation upheld by the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in 2018 is separate from statutes New York enacted in 2016, requiring public disclosure of some donors to 501(c) organizations. Those statutes were invalidated as facially violative of the First Amendment by a federal district court in 2019, and similar statutes enacted in New Jersey were effectively invalidated pursuant to permanent injunctions entered in three separate federal district court cases in 2020.

employed by the state.<sup>21</sup> The dissenting judges also concluded that the requirement was not substantially related to the state's asserted interest because "Schedule Bs are rarely used to detect fraud or to enhance enforcement efforts."<sup>22</sup>

United States Supreme Court Decision

Both the AFPF and the TMLC sought further review, which was granted by the United States Supreme Court in January 2021.<sup>23</sup> In July 2021, the Court issued a 6-3 decision striking down California's Schedule B requirement on its face, with the majority concluding that the requirement burdens donors' First Amendment rights and is not narrowly tailored to an important government interest.<sup>24</sup>

The justices split with respect to what level of scrutiny generally applies to disclosure requirements. Justice Thomas concurred in the judgment, but believed that the correct level of scrutiny was strict scrutiny.<sup>25</sup> Justices Alito and Gorsuch concurred in the judgment, but were not prepared to hold that either strict scrutiny or exacting scrutiny apply to all disclosure requirements.<sup>26</sup> They noted that the distinction was inconsequential because they concluded that California's Schedule B disclosure requirement failed either test.<sup>27</sup> The remaining three justices in the majority held that "[r]egardless of the type of association, compelled disclosure requirements are reviewed under exacting scrutiny."<sup>28</sup>

The six justices in the majority each joined the portion of the Court's opinion holding that "[w]hile exacting scrutiny does not require that disclosure regimes be the least restrictive means of achieving their ends, it does require that they be narrowly tailored to the government's asserted interest."<sup>29</sup> The majority went on to state that a substantial relationship between the governmental interest and the means employed "is necessary but not sufficient to ensure that the government adequately considers the potential for First Amendment harms before requiring that organizations reveal sensitive information about their members and supporters. Where exacting scrutiny applies, the challenged requirement must be narrowly tailored to the interest it promotes, even if it is not the least restrictive means of achieving that end."<sup>30</sup> The majority also held that a facial challenge to a disclosure requirement need not include evidence "that donors to a substantial number of organizations will be subjected to harassment and reprisals," if the disclosure requirement is not narrowly tailored.<sup>31</sup>

Applying exacting scrutiny, the majority noted that while "California has an important interest in preventing wrongdoing by charitable organizations," "[t]here is a dramatic mismatch" between that interest and the Schedule B disclosure requirement, because California did not cite “a single, concrete instance in which pre-investigation collection of a Schedule B did anything to advance the Attorney General's investigative, regulatory or enforcement efforts.”<sup>32</sup> The majority went on to note that disclosure requirements can chill freedom of association even when there is no disclosure to the general public,<sup>33</sup> and ultimately concluded that California's Schedule B disclosure requirement was not narrowly tailored and was invalid on its face.

Potential Impact on Chapter 10A

Chapter 10A differs from California's Schedule B disclosure requirement in several significant respects. First and foremost, the purpose of requiring disclosure via the campaign finance, lobbyist, and economic interest programs is to ensure that the disclosed information is available to the general public. At least in the campaign finance context, the United States Supreme Court has long held that “disclosure requirements certainly in most applications appear to be the least restrictive means of curbing the evils of campaign ignorance and corruption . . .”<sup>34</sup> Second, the information disclosed pursuant to Chapter 10A is routinely used by the Board to enforce Chapter 10A and is used by journalists and the general public for a variety of purposes, including bringing possible violations of Chapter 10A to the attention of the Board. Those distinctions decrease the likelihood that the Court's decision will have a direct impact on Chapter 10A. However, the Court's clear articulation of a tailoring requirement applicable to disclosure requirements subject to exacting scrutiny may make it easier to challenge the constitutionality of disclosure requirements if those requirements are likely to chill speech or association.

Alaska's Individual Contribution Limit

Alaska prohibits individuals from giving contributions in excess of $500 per calendar year to any particular state candidate or to any political group aside from political parties and independent expenditure and ballot question groups.<sup>1</sup> The limit is the same with respect to candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, state legislature, and judicial office. Individuals who wished to give contributions in excess of that limit filed a lawsuit asserting, in part, that the limit is so low that it violates the First Amendment by preventing candidates, particularly non-incumbents, from waging competitive campaigns. A federal district court upheld the $500 limit<sup>2</sup> as did the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.<sup>3</sup>

United States Supreme Court Decision

In November 2019 the United States Supreme Court granted the plaintiffs' petition for further review. Rather than add the case to its docket, the Court ordered the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals to reconsider its decision in light of Randall v. Sorrell.<sup>4</sup> In Randall the United States Supreme Court invalidated Vermont's individual contribution limits as violative of the First Amendment.<sup>5</sup> The Ninth Circuit panel felt that it wasn't bound by Randall because that case resulted in highly fractured opinions and only three justices joined the plurality opinion. However, in Randall six justices agreed that Vermont's contribution limits violated the First Amendment and five of them joined opinions that explicitly stated that part of the reason the contribution limits were constitutionally infirm is because the dollar amounts were simply too low under Buckley v. Valeo.

Randall set forth five factors in determining whether Vermont’s contribution limits violated the First Amendment, including “(1) whether the limits would significantly restrict the amount of funding available for challengers to run competitive campaigns; (2) whether political parties must abide by the same low limits that apply to individual contributors; (3) whether volunteer services or expenses are considered contributions that would count toward the limit; (4) whether the limits are indexed for inflation; and (5) whether there is any ‘special justification’ that might warrant such low limits.”<sup>6</sup> The individual contribution limits struck down in Randall applied to two-year cycles and were $400 for statewide candidates, $300 for state senate candidates, and $200 for state representative candidates. The $400 limit for statewide candidates, even if increased by 25% to account for inflation, is still effectively about half the size of Alaska’s $500 limit because Alaska’s limit applies to each calendar year while Vermont’s limits applied to a two-year cycle.

Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals Decision on Remand

On remand a divided three-judge Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals panel struck down Alaska’s $500 individual contribution limit, with the majority concluding that “the limit significantly restricts the amount of funds available to challengers to run competitively against incumbents, and the already-low limit is not indexed for inflation. Moreover, Alaska has not established a special justification for such a low limit.”<sup>7</sup> The majority noted that one reason the limit favors incumbents is because it applies to each calendar year and “[c]hallengers tend to register to run in election years. Their tendency not to enter political races earlier is not necessarily conscious or negligent. Often it is just that they are not recruited to run until the year of the general election. It follows that challengers are often not registered as candidates and therefore cannot raise money in the off-years.”<sup>8</sup> As did the United States Supreme Court, the majority of the Ninth Circuit panel also noted that “Alaska’s $500 contribution limit is the same as it was 23 years ago, in 1996.”<sup>9</sup>

On August 20, 2021, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals issued an order stating that a judge has called for a vote to determine whether the case should be reheard by the entire Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. The parties will now file briefs on the matter and the Ninth Circuit will then decide whether to reconsider the case en banc.

Potential Impact on Chapter 10A

There is no immediate impact on the validity of Chapter 10A’s contribution limits. However, some aspects of the majority’s opinion are notable in light of similarities and dissimilarities between Alaska’s individual contribution limit and Chapter 10A. First, the court noted that Alaska’s individual contribution limit is not indexed to inflation, which is one of the factors set forth in Randall. While Chapter 10A’s aggregate special source contribution limits are indexed to inflation,<sup>10</sup> the individual contribution limits<sup>11</sup> and party unit and dissolving principal campaign committee aggregate contribution limits<sup>12</sup> are static. However, those limits were increased considerably in 2013.<sup>13</sup>

Second, Chapter 10A's individual contribution limit applies to two-year election cycle segments rather than each calendar year. Therefore, the issue of challengers potentially waiting until an election year to begin accepting contributions does not result in an effectively lower individual contribution limit.

Third, Alaska's $500 individual contribution limit applies to all state candidates, including candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, whereas Chapter 10A establishes varying contribution limits depending on the office sought. During the two-year period leading up to a general election, the individual contribution limit is $4,000 for candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, $2,500 for candidates for attorney general, $2,000 for candidates for secretary of state or state auditor, and $1,000 for legislative candidates. Chapter 10A's individual contribution limits for statewide candidates are therefore significantly higher than Alaska's $500 per calendar year limit.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Act (Minnesota Statutes Chapter 10A) requires lobbyists to report disbursements for lobbying purposes to the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board twice each year. The Act also requires principals to file an annual report disclosing expenditures to the nearest $20,000. This summary is based on the reports of lobbyists and principals filed for calendar year 2020.

During 2020, 1,460 individuals were registered as lobbyists to represent 1,527 associations and individuals. Lobbyists filed 4,292 periodic reports for the twelve-month period, 94% of which were filed electronically. The lobbyist disbursement reports disclosed a total of $9,165,934 spent on lobbying activities. This amount does not include salaries and fees paid to lobbyists. Lobbyists are not required to disclose their salaries or fees, although principals do include lobbyist salaries and fees in total lobbying expenditures. Lobbyists and principals are not required to disclose political contributions, which are disclosed by the recipients on periodic campaign finance reports.

Principals filed 1,424 annual reports for 2020, 97% of which were filed electronically. Principal expenditures were disclosed in two numbers: 1) the amount spent to influence administrative action by the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission (MN PUC) in cases of rate setting, power plant and power line siting, and granting of certificates of need; and 2) all other lobbying expenditures in Minnesota not included in number one. Expenditures by principals may be rounded to the nearest $20,000 for reporting purposes. Principals reported a total of $68,023,406 in expenditures, with $5,049,004 of that total being expenditures for lobbying the MN PUC and $62,974,403 in expenditures for all other lobbying. This amount includes lobbyist salaries, advertising and public relations campaigns, and all other lobbying disbursements made by the principals and lobbyists.

Lobbyists reported that 880 (62%) of the 1,425 principals represented made disbursements for lobbying purposes during 2020. The reports disclosed that 75% of lobbying disbursements were made for the purpose of influencing legislative action, 17% of disbursements were made to influence administrative action, and 8% were made to influence the official actions of metropolitan governmental units. See page 5 for a comparison of total lobbying disbursements by type of lobbying reported and total lobbying expenditures reported by principals in 2019 and 2020.

Lobbyists must disclose gifts, loans, items, and services equal in value to $5 or more given or paid to officials by the lobbyist, the lobbyist's principal, or an employee of the lobbyist. Thirteen lobbyists reported giving items or benefits totaling $2,546 to 53 legislators, 1 constitutional officer, and 5 public officials. See page 17 for definitions and see subsequent pages for details of the gifts.

Education Minnesota reported the largest total lobbyist disbursements during the period, and the largest total disbursements for legislative action lobbying. Xcel Energy Services, Inc. reported the largest total disbursements for administrative action lobbying. The largest total disbursements for attempts to influence actions of metropolitan governmental units was reported by FairVote MN. The largest total amount spent to influence administrative action by the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission was reported by Enbridge Energy Partners LP. Complete lists of the entities that reported making the largest amounts of disbursements and the largest amounts of disbursements by type of lobbying begin on page 21.

This summary also includes a list of associations and the lobbyists that represented each association during 2020 along with the total disbursements made by each association. See page 31 for this information.

LOBBYING OVERVIEW

What is lobbying?

Lobbying is attempting to influence legislative or administrative action or the official action of a metropolitan governmental unit by communicating with or urging others to communicate with public or defined local officials. Any activity that directly supports this communication is considered a part of lobbying.

Who is a lobbyist?

For the purpose of this summary, “lobbyist” means:

1) An individual who is engaged for pay or other consideration of more than $3,000 from all sources in a year for the purpose of attempting to influence legislative or administrative action or the official action of a metropolitan governmental unit by communicating with or urging others to communicate with public or local officials;

2) An individual who is not compensated more than $3,000 but spends more than $250 in any year (not including travel expenses and membership dues) for the purpose of attempting to influence legislative or administrative action or the official action of a metropolitan governmental unit by communicating with or urging others to communicate with public or local officials;

3) A non-elected local official or an employee of a political subdivision who spends more than 50 hours in any month attempting to influence legislative or administrative action or the official action of a metropolitan governmental unit, other than the political subdivision employing the official or employee, by communicating with or urging others to communicate with public or local officials, including time spent monitoring any of the forenamed actions and related research, analysis, and compilation and dissemination of information relating to legislative, administrative, or metropolitan governmental unit policies in Minnesota.

Who is not a lobbyist?

1) An individual who merely communicates with a public official to obtain information or request an interpretation of a law, rule or agency action;

2) An individual who volunteers personal time to work without pay on a lobbying campaign and does not spend more than $250 on lobbying activities; and

3) An individual who provides administrative support to a lobbyist whose salary and expenses are reported by the lobbyist and who does not actually lobby.

About lobbyist registration

A lobbyist must register with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board on behalf of each association or individual that the lobbyist represents. Registration information includes the name and address of the registrant; the name and address of the association (including officers and directors) or individual represented; the lobbyist’s reporting status; and a general description of subjects on which the lobbyist expects to lobby and the kind of action the lobbyist seeks to influence.

Principal

A principal is an individual or association that spends more than $500 in the aggregate in any calendar year to engage, compensate, or authorize the expenditure of money by a lobbyist; or is not included in the definition above and spends at least $50,000 in any calendar year in efforts to influence legislative action, administrative action, or the official action of metropolitan governmental units.

Filing dates

Types of lobbying

Administrative action

- The adoption, amendment, or repeal of administrative rules by any official, board, commission, or agency of the state executive branch. Administrative action does not include the application or administration of an adopted rule, except in cases of rate setting, power plant and power line siting, and granting of certificates of need under Minnesota Statutes Chapter 216B.

Legislative action

- Action with regard to any bill, resolution, amendment, nomination, appointment, report, or any other matter which may be the subject of action by either house of the legislature or by any legislative committee, subcommittee, or commission. Legislative action includes gubernatorial approval or veto of any bill.

Metropolitan governmental unit action

- Any official action taken by a metropolitan governmental unit.

Lobbyist Principal Disbursements 2016- 2020

DISCLOSURE OF OTHER SOURCES OF FUNDS FOR LOBBYING PURPOSES

What sources must be disclosed?

A lobbyist must disclose the source of funds of more than $500 received for lobbying purposes from any individual or association other than the entity represented by the lobbyist.

What must be disclosed?

A lobbyist must report the name, address, employer or, if self-employed, the occupation, and principal place of business of each other individual or other association that paid more than $500 in a calendar year to be used for lobbying purposes. The actual amount of funds provided is not required to be disclosed.
